From Barbara . . .

“As the Father has sent me, so I send you.” These words of Jesus were not only meant for the people who were locked in the room. They were meant for you and me and for all who consider themselves disciples of Jesus. Our mission is to continue to make disciples of all and the best way to make disciples is to be disciples. But the disciples were afraid and they had Jesus with them. Jesus is with us also. We may be afraid but Jesus calms our fears. We must live our faith and be the light for all to see so as to bring people to the Light of the World – Jesus. Take time this week to be light and to recognize light in others. How do you light the way for others to find Jesus?

I want to take this opportunity to thank Fr. Jack for all that he has done for us as parish communities and for me personally. It was a pleasure to work with him in my first assignment as Pastoral Life Director. He helped me to get acclimated here and was very patient with me as I worked my way through the first couple of months in my new position. I wish him well and on behalf of our parish communities we send him to his new place of ministry with prayers and blessings. We will continue to pray for him and ask him to continue to pray for us.

May God bless us all. Alleluia! Alleluia!

Blue Ribbon Committee on Schools Invitation for Public Comment

Archbishop O'Brien commissioned a committee to develop a strategic plan for the sustainability for Catholic schools. The committee is interested in hearing from all those who care about the future of Catholic schools in the Archdiocese. To submit a comment on-line, please go to the webpage at www.archbalt.org/blueribboncommittee/. If you do not have access to the internet, you may mail your written comment to: Public Comment, Blue Ribbon Committee on Schools, Archdiocese of Baltimore, 320 Cathedral Street, Baltimore, MD 21201
